WILL COY PLAY?

Ell's Commander and Philbin May be Used Tomorrow But Only For a Spell.

"ED" SAVAGE ON DECK

All New Haven was up in the air last evening. Well they might. Somebody started the tale that Captain Ted Coy had injured his leg and would be out of the game Saturday. This was the thing that the Yale coaches and undergraduates had most feared throughout the season. It will be remembered that Coy was out of the game at the beginning of the season. It was really observed yesterday afternoon that Coy did have a perceptible limp as he walked around. Directing the practice. He stated that there was nothing much the matter and that the limp was because he had a tight bandage on his leg.

The lineup for to-morrow is uncertain. Captain Coy stated that he will not know who is to play, till this evening. It may be that some of the back field recruits will start in the contest. In fact, it is possible that Coy himself may not play and that Philbin will be asked most of the contest for the Harvard game. This would give the second string of backs a chance to shine, meaning that Ed. Savage will get into the contest, much to the delight of the big Ed. Savage crowd who intend to be present and pull for the only Park City chap, who has worn the blue in a number of games.

The betting on the game is slow, not much Princeton money being in sight. The prevailing odds as far as could be learned this morning were 2-1 on the Blue. Most of the betting will be on the number of points made, by Yale or whether or not Princeton scores. The latter bet is a good one with the chances slightly in favor of the Orange and Black for it is said by those followers of the game that should the Tiger team get within 40 yards of their opponents goal post, Cunningham's toe will register at least three points for his eleven.

All the arrangements have been completed, handling the biggest crowd that ever stormed New Haven on a fall day. For the game all tickets have been distributed, deputies have been trying on blue coats for the past week, the Consolidated Company has been making its larger cars from all over the state into the city, while all the theatres have been sold out.

The ticket association is increasing so all who attend the game will need of starting early for the field. The game will start at 2 o'clock. The 12:30 express out of the city will leave New Haven about 1 o'clock, giving the lucky holder of a ticket ample time to make the field. A person who leaves later than that will find it difficult of having to storm a big crowd at the gates, with a possibility of losing the best part of the game, the start.

HARVARD EXPECTS TO BEAT DARTMOUTH

(Special from United Press.)

Boston, Nov. 12.—Harvard's expectations of beating Dartmouth to-morrow are being increased by the fact that through the probability that Minot, her plunging fullback may not start with the team against the green. Long and Leslie will replace Minot and Perry Smith in the line-up and if this is decided on at the last minute it will be only that these two husters will be saved for the game. The last practice Gilbrune, who is not quite recovered from a recent injury was at left end in place of Houston and it is likely he will start in that position to-morrow. Despite the fact that the odds are 2 to 1 against them, Dartmouth comes out of the game with a least being able to score on the crimson. It is as yet uncertain whether Brady or Plimton will be at quarter for the green with the chances in favor of the former as his greater weight is believed necessary to the line-up.

The Dartmouth eleven probably will line-up against Harvard as follows: Daley and Bankart, ends; Sherwin and Lang, tackles; Tobin and Farnum, guards; Needham, center; Brady, quarterback; Marks, fullback; Ryan and Ingersoll, halfbacks.

FOOTBALL RETURNS AT Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. is making elaborate preparations for receiving the returns of the football game on Saturday. A large sheet has been made up representing the field and as the plays are received over the ticker they will be marked out on the sheet, thus making the returns very vivid. This method of seeing the game is very popular with those who cannot get to the real game and a large crowd is being prepared for as the sale of tickets for the game at New Haven closed so long ago that many are unable to get them.

Weather Indications

(Special from United Press.)
New Haven, Nov. 12.—Forecast: Partly cloudy to-night and Saturday. Cooler Saturday.

Cloudy weather with local showers prevails in the southern portion of the lake region, the Ohio valley and the lower Mississippi valley with mild temperature. Pleasant weather prevails in the eastern portions. From Chicago, westward, the temperature is falling rapidly. Butteford, in the British northwest, reported 12 degrees below zero.

Conditions favor for this vicinity partly cloudy and unsettled weather with slightly lower temperature.

CONTRACT JUMPERS TO BE PUNISHED

Minor League Law Now Provides for Suspension for Five Years.

The meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs, of which the Connecticut league is a part, the latter being represented by Manager James H. O'Rourke, of this city, closed its annual session in Memphis, Tenn., yesterday. The life of the association has been extended till Sept. 6, 1921, while the next meeting is booked for Chicago.

The constitution revision committee of which Manager O'Rourke was a member brought in a number of changes which were adopted by the association. One new rule is that a player must be under contract before he can play a game with a club. Formerly the time allowed a player to sign a contract varied from seven to fifteen days. The past season Waterbury pitched Van Vleck, the Yale crack in one of their Saturday games. Van Vleck wanted to pitch, but did not want to sign a contract, as it would put a blot on his amateur record. At present Van Vleck is a celebrated amateur golf expert. The association decided to follow the example of the majors in the punishment of contract and reserve jumpers. The new rule provides a suspension of five years for breaking a contract and three years for violating a reserve.

SOME WHO CAN'T

Not Everyone in Park City Can Attend Big Game.

GARAGES PREPARING

To-morrow is the big day. The bulldog and the tiger will fight for blood on the Yale field and crowds from all over the country will see them. The local hotels are now to accommodate the biggest crowds in their history. The florists have made especial preparation for handling a great lot of violets, chrysanthemums and other floral decorations. The N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. will provide special trains. The owners of garages, many of them, will employ extra men for Saturday and Sunday. They will be sure their gasoline tanks are filled to the limit. Everyone is keenly anticipating a great day. The weather promises to be ideal. Nothing more could be desired.

Very few will ask the question who is going. Everyone is taking it for granted that everyone else is in on it. There are some who will not get off however. They are the men in the garages. One of the proprietors of the largest garage in the city said yesterday afternoon: "None of us here will get away, you may be sure of that. If any man leaves Saturday he may just as well leave for good. Why these two days, Saturday and Sunday have shown them to be the biggest days in the year for us from a standpoint of supplies. We have to hire four extra men to pump gasoline and to empty our tanks once an hour. The tank holds 600 gallons. We will be rushed all day Saturday and Sunday if the attendance is anything like what it has been in years past."

This dealer expressed the sentiments of many of his fellow dealers. Others, however, disagreed with him. Some of them said that they had made preparations heretofore for a big day and had been fool. They did not intend to do it again.

In regard to the crowd which will attend the game there is every evidence that it will be a big one. As far as Bridgeport is concerned, there was never so much enthusiasm over the prospects of seeing a hard battle between the giants. The prevailing now is not "How did the election go?" but "Are you going to the game?" Only one of two answers is forthcoming. Sure thing, or "I couldn't get hold of a ticket." Those who have tickets are congratulating one another on being successful.

PARIS CERTAIN MME. STEINHEIL WILL GO FREE

(Special from United Press.)

Paris, Nov. 12.—If Madame Marguerite Steinheil is acquitted of the murder of her husband and mother, and all Paris is certain she will be, the government will immediately resume the investigation of the crime. The authorities are convinced today that grave secrets of national importance lie behind the garroting of the artist's wife. The case of the Impasse Ronsin and they are determined to ferret out the mystery. After two years of constant effort they have succeeded in learning little beyond what was known in the morning the murders were discovered. But the acquittal of Madame Steinheil would place the French secret service in a position of being utterly defeated and it is expected that they will go at the case with redoubled energy if the "Red Widow" is acquitted. Authorities are disregarding the death of Madame Japy. Madame Steinheil's mother, who they now believe was frightened to death by the murder of her son-in-law.

Weeping at every fresh attack upon her, Madame Steinheil today listened closely to the continuation of the summary of Prosecutor General Paul Trouillard Roite. She is confident that she will be acquitted and scarcely anyone differs with her, but she is continuing her emotional appeal to the jury to the end.

Roite's speech today, following the lines of his utterances yesterday, was founded purely upon the hearsay testimony of several government witnesses and upon ingenious, far-fetched deductions from minor points in the case. He disregarded entirely the salient facts that have been proved regarding the murders and indulged in the brutal general accusations which have characterized the entire trial. All this wins the sympathy of the jury for Madame Steinheil, who takes every advantage by sobbing at the proper moments.

M. Aubin, counsel for Madame Steinheil, will probably begin his address late today, as Roite expected to finish in four hours of the session. Aubin, realizing that the case is won without his help by the witness and dramatic instinct of his client, will probably make but a short speech, confining himself to refuting the strongest points of the government's weak case.

That weakness was well shown yesterday by the announcement of presiding Judge De Valles that the jury would be asked to consider the possibility of convicting Madame Steinheil as an accomplice if not as the principal in the murder.

Allenby May Lose His Hotel

David G. Allenby, the Greenwich saloon keeper, who yesterday morning was sentenced to serve 60 days in jail and fined $100,000 by Judge Walsh, for illegal selling of liquors, was again today in the courts. The Consolidated railroad is foreclosing against his property, the Greenwich Hotel. The railroad holds Allenby's note for $500.

SOME YALE AND PRINCETON PLAYERS AND SCENE OF GAME AT NEW HAVEN

Prominent football games scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 13, are: Yale versus Princeton at New Haven. Harvard versus Dartmouth at Cambridge, Mass. We empty our tank once an hour. The tank holds 600 gallons. We will be rushed all day Saturday and Sunday if the attendance is anything like what it has been in years past."

YALE VS. PRINCETON TOMORROW

(Special from United Press.)

New Haven, Nov. 12.—All here today announce every member of Yale eleven in perfect condition, the defense all it should be, speed, and line plunges, its ability unsurpassed in the history of Yale football and as up-roarously enthusiastic an underdog body, drilled to the minute in old Eli's yell and songs, as ever backed the home team to the final play. With these assurances Yale backers are today betting 3 to 1 against the Tigers and not a few are putting up their money 4 to 1 on the Yale-Princeton game tomorrow.

Everybody is expecting a good game. Word comes from the Tiger camp that the visitors are here to draw blood. The reply from Eli's warriors is that they are in the proper trim to play

FEVER RAMPANT

Everybody is Impregnated With Football Germ.

HOTELS TO BE TAXED

The microbe of footballism has evidently become inoculated into the system of about all the people in town judging from the throngs that are going, and the whines of those who have been disappointed. The clever drop kicking of Cunningham, the Princeton star, the terrific line bucking of Captain Ted Coy of the Blues, and not forgetting that Bridgeport has a representative in Savage, the plunging fullback; all these lead up to that interest which is displayed.

The procession of automobiles, decked in their favorite colors with usual attract considerable attention. Starting this evening the buzz wagons will begin to arrive, some making this city their home for the night, while others will go on to New Haven in the hopes of finding a garage that has at least a berth for one more. Many will be unsuccessful in this quest, as not only the Elm City garage owners state that they have all vacancies filled, but the local dealers have a scarcity of rooms. The procession of the riders will stop off in this city for lunch.

The local hotels report a dearth of accommodations. The Stratfield, especially, where all the rooms for the night and Saturday evenings have been engaged for some weeks past. The Atlantic also has all of its rooms booked up. Both these hotels and the more popular cafes about town are making a specialty of serving dishes that will be the delight of all.

It will be unwise to go to the game without some colors. Flags, banners, pennants and souvenirs of both colleges can be bought almost anywhere. And then it is well if you are not going alone to supply your friend with either violets or chrysanthemums. The former are quoted at $2 per 100, while the yellow flowers bring from 15 cents up.

Ford and Rice Fight Another Draw

Waterbury, Nov. 12.—Bunny Ford of New Haven and Austin Rice of New London fought another draw near this city last night, both of the fighters going the full limit without going down for any length of time, but Ford was groggy and Rice so tired at the finish that it is doubtful whether either or both could have lasted much longer, and a good blow by either might have ended things if another round had been fought. There was a large crowd at the fight.

Pearl ornaments of most elaborate designs will be used for fastening on the new fancy capes—especially the capes fashioned after the Arabian garment.

CURES ECZEMA QUICKLY

New Discovery Has Revolutionized the Treatment of Skin Diseases

Nothing in the history of medicine has ever approached the success of the marvelous skin remedy known as poslam, which, it is safe to say, has cured more cases of eczema and skin diseases than any remedy ever offered for these ills.

The success of poslam is not at all surprising when it is considered that even a very small quantity applied to the skin stops itching immediately and cures chronic cases in two weeks. The very worst cases of eczema, as well as acne, herpes, tetter, piles, salt rheum, rash, crusted humors, scaly scalp and every form of itch, yield to it readily. Blemishes such as pimples, red noses, muddy and inflamed skin disappear almost immediately when poslam is applied, the complexion being cleared over-night.

Every druggist keeps both the 50-cent size (for minor troubles) and the $2 jar, and either of these may be obtained in Bridgeport at Jennie Hamilton's Pharmacy as well as other reliable drug stores.

But no one is even asked to purchase poslam without first obtaining an experimental package which will be sent by mail, free of charge, upon request, by the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City.
